Secure Quick Release Mount

The Secure Quick Release (SQR) is an attachment system designed to quickly attach and remove gear, or easily move gear from one position to another. This two-piece system is perfect for users who anticipate moving pouches or holsters from one platform to another, such as between a belt and chest rig. The SQR can be purchased as a complete unit or as individual base and mounting plates. Both plates feature a nine-hole pattern for universal mounting and are compatible with the HSGI® Universal Clips. The Base Plate is meant to attach to your platform, while the Mount Plate is designed to attach to your holster or pouch.
